One of the most important functions of a year-book is to record the events of the past year.

The Trojan staff tried to put together pictures and words which would cause you to remember and recall your favorite happenings of the 1978-79 school year.

Whether your memories center around homecomings, sports events, plays, classroom happenings, club projects or maybe just faces you'd see in the hall, we hope you can find a part of those memories in this book.

The staff asked Karla Riemann for her creative thoughts on the subject of memories and you'll find her contributions on the opening and closing pages.

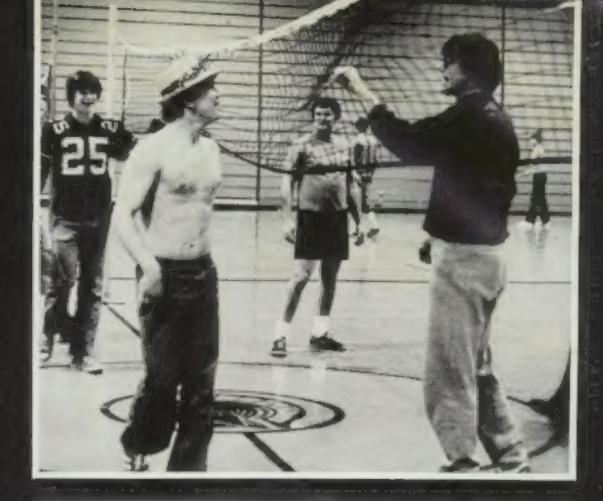

May your memories be pleasant ones as you leaf through and recall the events of the past school year.

Tides of Time

Memories lyin' in the seas of my mind.
Floating soft and gentle with the
Tides of Time
Tides of Time

Come along with me my friend and We'll explore my memories, They're lyin' on my shores like Shells left behind by the tide

But in these shells won't be the roar of the sea Only the echo of times gone by and of Laughter Shared Of Laughter Shared

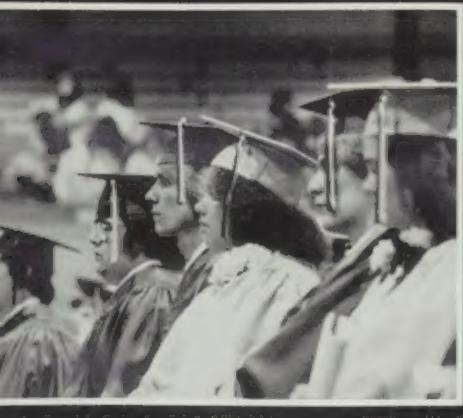

Come along with me my friend and We'll explore my memories, They're lyin' on my shores like Shells left behind by the tide.

Come to me my friend and you will hear the sound of time As it echoes through the shells and the memories of my mind.

Hold tight to me my friend, I think I'm going to cry. For all I see are the faces of the friends I left behind.

Memories lyin'in the seas of my mind All I see are the faces of my friends. By Karla Riemann

In October and September, some of the fall projects, were manning the concession stand at the home football games, sponsoring the Fall Homecoming Dance, and collecting for the Arthritis Fund. Several girls attended the Fall Conference held at Phillipsburg.

During the Christmas season names were drawn and gifts were exchanged at the meeting. Cake and punch was then served. It was voted to donate gifts to the Youth Center.

Y-Teens continued this year to sponsor their girl from the Phillippines. Throughout the week of February 8-14, the girls brought gifts for their Heart-Sisters such as something red, sweet, homemade, and for Valentines Day, something nice.

On April 23, a potluck supper was held for Y-Teens, parent-daughter Banquet, held in the Commons Area.

Color Pages, Layout Styles and Student Life Features Keep Publication Staff Involved

The Trojan Staff began the year 19 members strong. To learn about layout styles and copy writing, the staff attended a workshop at Concordia in September. Chris Snedden was awarded a certificate for her outstanding double-page layout.

An all new cover design using the fold letters and a back to front design was chosen in November. Stainless steel endsheets were chosen at the same time.

Staffers used a variety of layout styles; including graphics through the Junior High section, Trajen page munbers, tooling lines, and a color section.

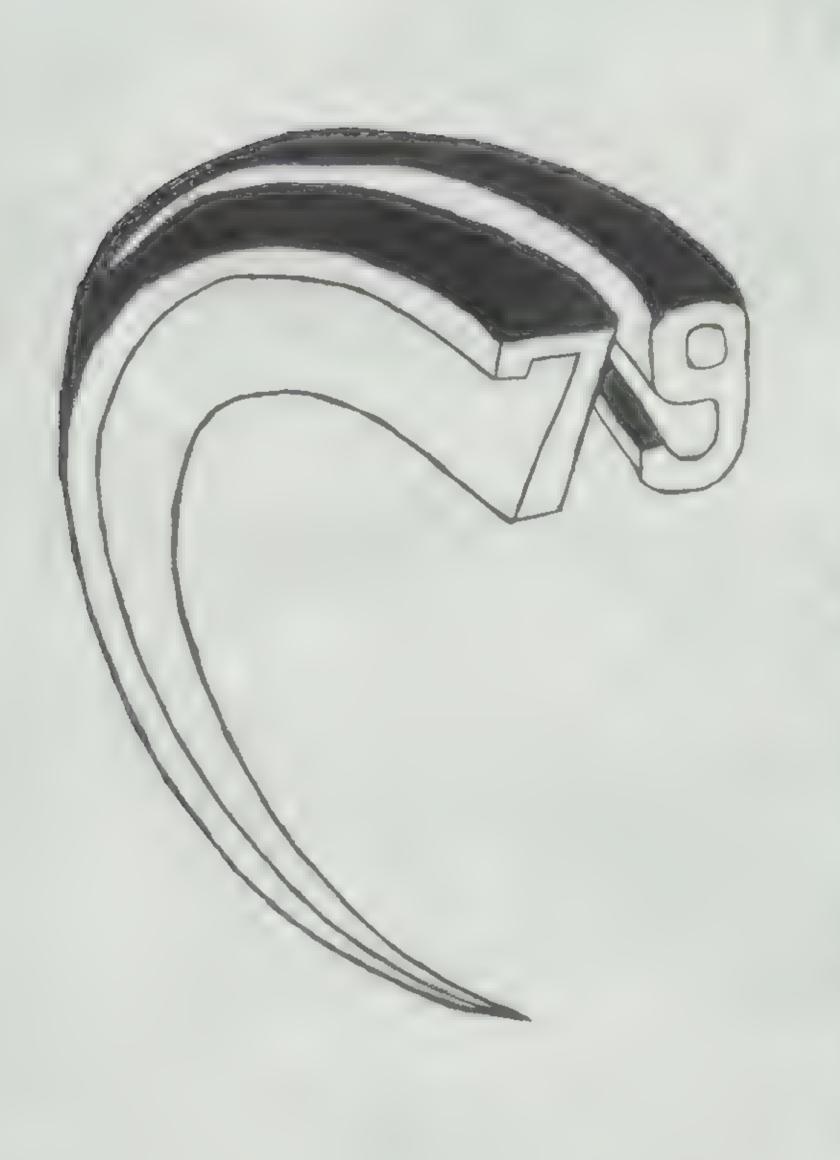

The 164 page publication covered riigh school and junior high activities and clubs. A special opening section featured student fad and fashions in '79.

In February, Cheryl Plymire, Curt Farwell, Kyle Swisher, Sharon Kadel, Julie Mah, Tim Gilbert, and Counie Studer attended a Regional KSPA Journalism conference in Manhattan. Those who won awards were Kadel-Special Effects, third — and Swisher third in Cutline Writing. They participated in the state contest in Lawrence in March.

When we are gone from here.

Remember the laughter
Shared during plays
lear the silence that prevailed
As we worked

Feel the bursting joy
That shone from our victories
Smile at the pain
Of the loses we bore

Remamber us through your memories

Memories that shine In your silent dreams Memories that dawn In quiet moments of peace

Memories of friends,
Memories of loves,
Memories of you and man

Julie, Weil, where do I began to talk about all the goals times we've had together? There have been some bad times but we won't talk about them. Remember when you were with Dan and I ended up driving traig Genglers Car. God, I can't believe that. I remember that one homecoming you went with Karl and I went with John out at our old farm. One of the funniest times is when we got stuck in that pond. God, that was furing! Remember how drunk you got on July 4? ripping off that sign, you didn't even hear Grecrockers a foot away from your Firecrackers à foot away from your head. We'll have to go out and party all night sometime. You're a hell of a partier. We'll have to get together and partier. We'll have to get logether shows start making up excuses again, I'm getting out of practice. I can't wait to go visit Sandy that will be a blast.
